Network

"families committed to families"

The Durham Family Network is one of fifteen regional networks of families across Ontario dedicated to the fostering of the strength, stability, confidence and knowledge that families can offer each other.

The Network has as its vision that families can grow in their capacity to plan for a desirable future for their family member who is labeled with a disability.

This can be achieved through sharing information and resources, learning together and hearing each other's stories of the joys and rewards as well as the struggles of everyday life.

At the present time families are coming together in groups for the FAMILIES are the basic social structure of our society.
