

Planning Network FEEDBACK

I find the information on the website to be really relevant for me and my situation ... any questions I have, I can find there. »

What I appreciate is hope, because I see other families who are in similar situations ... who have gone before me and have done different things .... Other families have done it, so we can too. »

P4P is the one resource that really reflects what I'm going through and the barriers that I come across and that I need help with ... »

I really liked the short videos and would like to forward to families and even some of our support workers to look at when assisting people and their families with planning. »

Partners for Planning is a family formed and led nonprofit organization. We help you support your loved one living with a disability to lead their best possible life.

276 Carlaw Ave., #308, Toronto, ON M4M 3L1 | 416.232.9444 | info@p4p.ca | p4p.ca

WHAT

you could plan the best possible life for your loved one living with a disability?

Caring for a relative with a disability holds so many complex challenges, so many what ifs.

The P4P Planning Network provides families with FREE resources to help your loved one thrive.

We help you create new possibilities,

NEW What Ifs!

Our strategies, tools and solutions

are designed to help you support your relative to live their best possible life, at every age and stage:

- Transition Planning throughout the school years
- Person Directed Planning for a meaningful adult life
- Financial and estate planning to safeguard your loved one's finances and respect choices
- Planning for a home that is truly one's own
- Social planning so that your loved one has people in their life who genuinely know and care for them

To start planning

go to communitylivingoc.ca

and click on the Planning
Network logo

With over 100 partner organizations referring families and caregivers to the Planning Network, it has become the go-to planning resource for families across Ontario.

Stay connected! We regularly update our site with new webcasts and resources. Stay inspired and informed by registering for the P4P e-news!

