WHO IS COMMUNITY LIVING OSHAWA/CLARINGTON (CLOC)?

EVERY PERSON LIVES WITH A UNIQUE PERSPECTIVE; complete with their own unique skills and talents. Those with developmental disabilities are no different. They are the students, athletes, employees, volunteers, and family members of our community. They have just as much to offer as the rest of us, but often, social and physical barriers prevent them from fully participating in community life. That's why Community Living Oshawa/Clarington is here. A healthy community is measured by its ability to include all of its citizens. We help people with developmental disabilities take their rightful place within their community, taking on important social roles, contributing meaningfully and living a good life. The life that they envision for themselves. Along with services, support and raising awareness, CLOC helps to inspire possibilities so that those with developmental disabilities can unlock their potential and truly belong.

OUR MISSION

CLOC is a charitable organization offering opportunities for personal growth, community inclusion and empowerment to people with developmental disabilities, and their families.

OUR VISION

CLOC's vision is for people with developmental disabilities to be included in a community where everyone lives, works, participates, succeeds and flourishes.
